BREWSTER, Mass., Feb. 10—Faced with death on two drifting ice cakes for 22 hours in Cape Cod bay, seven Rhode Island C. C. C. boys were rescued today by the combined efforts of coastguardsmen, Army airplanes and private planes.

BREWSTER, Mass., Feb. 10.—Seven CCC youths from Rhode Island marooned all night on an ice cake in Cape Cod Bay, were located today by an army bombing plane piloted by Major B. M. Giles.

By radio, the bomber contacted its winter maneuvers base at Concord, N. H., and two more bombers bearing food and heavy blankets took off to drop the supplies to the youths.

Later Major Giles dropped a message on the beach here saying he had located the youths and would guide the coastguard cutter Harriet Lane and two picket boats through the ice field to where the youths were marooned.

The bomber had been up all night dropping flares in an attempt to locate the youths.

President Opposes Any Constitutional Issue For Campaign

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(World Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Roosevelt is definitely committed against a campaign for re-election based on any major constitutional issue, it was reported today on Capitol Hill in usually well-informed circles.

As a result, congress will side-step a series of proposals for changing the constitution either to enlarge its own powers or to curb the authority of the supreme court. Such proposed amendments will be left to gather dust in senate and house committees either indefinitely or at least until after the next election.

Reflects Attitude.

The president's decision, it was said, was reflected when he accepted the supreme court's verdict on the AAA by asking congress to repeal the related tobacco, cotton and potato control acts. It was further verified, his friends said, when he refrained from endorsing a proposed campaign by Senator George W. Norris (R) of Nebraska, veteran author of constitutional changes, to take from all lower federal courts the power to declare acts of congress unconstitutional.

The president's friends said he reached this decision, because:

1. He wishes to conduct his campaign for re-election upon his administrative record to date, improved business conditions and economic

Hunt Three Men Adrift In Lake

Fear Trio Has Perished After Being Missing For 40 Hours

(International News Service)

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., Feb. 10.—Braving seven-degree-below zero weather, U. S. coast guardsmen today renewed an almost hopeless search for three men, including one of their shipmates, who have been marooned on a tossing ice floe or adrift in a small open boat in Lake Michigan for more than 40 hours.

Two other coast guardsmen were in Charlevoix hospital suffering from exposure and three other fishermen had been rescued from death through the heroic stand of two of the three missing men.

The three missing men were long since believed to have perished but at dawn a large coast guard power boat put out and two airplanes were to have taken off to direct the hunt from overhead.

Missing and believed dead were coast guardsmen Earl Cunningham, 38, Claude Beardsley, 51, and the latter's son-in-law, Clayton Brown. Three companions of Beardsley and Brown—Gene Pearss, 75, Cleo Lapeer, 45, and the latter's son, Lloyd Lapeer, 18—were rescued.

The other three were given freedom on their own recognizance. The former is the eldest of the group, none is of age. Chief of police Haven said today he would prefer complaints against all of them.

Curtailment In District W.P.A. Administration

Number Of Jobs Are Elimmended In District 14 Organization Here

SOME CHANGES IN DEPARTMENT HEADS

Number Of Jobs Are Eliminated Under New Setup In Progress

Following out the orders of Edward N. Jones, state administrator of the WPA, J. Vale Downie, director of district 14, has recommended some drastice changes in the administrative personnel of the district offices. Reductions in both salary totals and personnel and consolidations of departments has been recommended to the state office and will be put into effect here immediately upon approval.

The state recently allocated $20,000 per month as the maximum for administrative salaries and expenses. Prior to the order the total spent here was above that figure. To get within the $20,000 limit it was necessary to make a number of changes.

Consolidate Departments.

First, the 14 departments of the administrative setup have been consolidated into four departments in addition to the director and assistant director's office. The four new departments will be: Employment, finance and statistics, operations, and professional and women's work.

The employment department supersedes the old labor management department, finance and statistics supersedes the old finance and reports, operations takes in all the functions of the former engineering department, and professional and women's work takes in all professional projects, white collar projects, education and recreation. A number of the former departmental heads have been made assistants in the new departments but some of the heads have been eliminated entirely.

Some Eliminated.

Among those eliminated are H. L. Stewart, who was chief engineer and supervisor of projects; Edward B. Shilton, his assistant; Albert Fruth of Beaver county, who headed the payroll department; T. L. Javens of Beaver county, who headed the personnel department; Enoch Filer of Mercer county, who headed the compensation bureau.

The projects were launched out of the $4,880,000,000 work relief fund and public works appropriations. Neither have been approved by Congress.

SAYS STATE WILL ESCAPE NEW MID-WEST BLIZZARD

(International News Service)

Pennsylvania will escape the raging blizzards and polar waves that have transformed the mid-west into a Little America, the weather bureau promised today.

Weather forecasters said the frigid storm was swinging northward into Canada where it originated.

However, Pennsylvanians will still continue to shiver under close-to-zero temperatures, according to weather officials.

Despite a brilliant sun, the mercury hovered at 6 degrees above in Pittsburgh today. Pedestrians and motorists still picked their way over ice-dotted streets and highways.

All Somerset county secondary roads were drifted shut again this morning and schools scheduled to reopen after a week's shutdown because of the blizzard could not resume.

Thursday Is Dollar Day In New Castle

Spring is just around the corner, we hope, but there's something comes before spring.

Dollar Day. It comes on Thursday, February 13.

The semi-annual community Dollar Day when the merchants get together and present bargains in every kind of merchandise from hardware to lingerie.

Over forty merchants of New Castle are co-operating in this semi-annual offering of bargains and with Spring certainly not far behind, it is an opportunity to load up on things you'll need when the sun gets back on the job.

Dollar Day is presented by the merchants of New Castle, but the benefits are for every thrifty shopper in Lawrence County and the counties adjoining Lawrence.

The stores open at nine o'clock and from then on until closing time in the afternoon the bargain hunting housewife can busy herself going through the shops. In all of them she will find genuine bargains and in many of them she'll find just what she has been wanting to get for a long time, and at prices she won't see for another long time.

Thursday, February 13 is the day and the more than forty stores in New Castle co-operating in the Dollar Day are the places.

Checks Worth Of Old Post Office

Treasury Agent From Capital Here Today; Visit Significant

MAY AID MOVE FOR LIBRARY

Prospects for a new library building for New Castle brightened today as an agent of the United States treasury department came here from Washington to check valuations of properties adjacent to the old North street post office.

A. R. Wrenn, the agent, is here in the interest of the department's procurement division in matters pertaining to the disposition of the old post office building and site here.

Mr. Wrenn will report his findings to Washington and it will be upon his report that the government's value of the old post office property, temporarily in the service of the Works Progress Administration, will be based. Mr. Wrenn, before leaving tonight, will talk to owners of properties near the old post office site.

Vacated when the new Federal building was opened on December 15, 1934, the old North street building stood unoccupied until the WPA administrative force moved in a few weeks ago.

Thieves Ransack Homestead Home

Gems And Money Valued At $35,000 Taken From Wealthy Coal Contractor

SAFE IS ROLLED DOWN STAIRWAY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 10—Authorities today sought thieves who ransacked the home of Albert J. Kubancek, wealthy coal contractor, in Homestead, and escaped with gems and cash valued by Kubancek at approximately $35,000.

A vivid trail on the stairway told the story of the bold robbery.

Scratches on the stairway, police said, indicated the thieves had rolled a 600 pound safe to the bottom floor where the wood work gave way as the safe bumped down.

The safe, containing about $18,000 worth of diamonds and about $12,000 in cash, according to Kubancek was missing.

Two suspects, whose names were not divulged, were held for questioning.

The Strong Box

The money, authorities said, belonged to the Pittsburgh Coal Company, by whom Kubancek was employed.

The thieves, it was reported, also took a strong box that had been hidden in a cedar chest in Mrs. Kubancek's room, $3,200 of her money, a diamond wrist watch belonging to Kubancek's daughter Rose, and several checks of the Kuban Coal Company of which Kubancek was the owner.

The robbery was discovered by the contractor and his wife as they returned from a visit in the home of a neighbor. They found the front door open they said, and immediately called police. After so doing, Kubancek grabbed a shotgun and fired twice into the air to attract the neighbors attention.

A neighbor, William O'Brien told police he saw two cars, carrying at least four men, leave the Kubancek premises.

Braddock School Boy Is Drowned

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 10.—The icy waters of the Monongahela river had claimed another victim today.

"Don't tell my mother", the youth cried to his companion as his body disappeared.

Most Of Nation Held In Grip Of Worst Cold Wave

Intense Cold Causes Much Suffering In Mid-West Areas

ROADS ARE BLOCKED AS DRIFTS INCREASE

Fuel Being Rationed In Some States—Relief Not In Sight

The greater part of the nation today was in the grip of the most paralyzing Arctic wave of a century.

A great blanket of intense cold which carried raging blizzards, strangled railways and highway transportation, inflicted untold suffering and brought the specter of hunger and fuelless days.

Seven CCC boys were adrift on an ice floe off Cape Cod in Massachusetts. Sioux City, Iowa, was virtually marooned by great snow drifts left in the wake of a piercing gale. Three men believed lost on an ice floe off Charlevoix, Mich., coal was rationed throughout South Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin and Iowa. Hundreds of towns have not seen a railroad train for a week.

Chicago was threatened with a milk shortage when a raging blizzard blocked highways leading into the city.

To Last Long Time

"It looks as though the cold will last for a long time," was the dour prediction of government meterologist C. A. Donnel in Chicago today as most of the nation continued to shiver from freezing and subzero temperatures.

Although there has been little snowfall since Saturday in most sections, howling winds drift snow across railroad right-of-ways and highways faster than snowplow crews can remove it.

Many middle western villages situated on railroad branch lines faced limited rationing of food and fuel today.

The bitter cold extended from Spokane to the eastern seaboard and south to Texas, taking a tremendous toll of life and property damage.

In Indiana alone almost three weeks of bitter cold and raging blizzards have taken a toll of seventy lives directly or indirectly. Fire losses are over a million dollars. In Indianapolis it was four be-

TWO CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH AT DAYTON, OHIO

(International News Service)

DAYTON, O., Feb. 10.—Two small sons of Ray Simmons were burned to death at Fairfield, near here, today when fire resulting either from a defective flue or the explosion of an oil stove destroyed the Simmons cottage.

David Simmons, three, and Richard, two were the victims. Two brothers were away at school and their father, unemployed for many weeks until today, was at work in the supplies department at Paterson flying field when the tragedy occurred.

Now I did not see '83, but they insist that it was tough but when you're talking weather yarns, this '35 and 6 is quite enough. And I suppose I'll be the same, and cackle of the days I've seen, that winter back in '36 today its cold and just thirteen.

Evacuate Dessye As Italians Bomb Town

(International News Service)

DESSYE, Ethiopia, Feb. 10—Evacuation of Dessye in record time by all the population except the emperor and his personal guard during yesterday's bombing kept the casuality list down to two dead and four wounded, a check-up today showed.

For more than an hour seven Italian Caproni bombers rained destruction on the Ethiopian army headquarters in what appeared to be the third attempt to "get" Haile Selassie.

In the course of the attack the Italians dropped 80 bombs near an Ethiopian Red Cross airplane standing in the center of the Dessye flying field, but all of them missed.

Emperor At Gun

According to Ethiopian accounts, the emperor, utterly unruffled by the fire, once more manned an anti-aircraft gun and it was reported that some of the bombers were hit in the general ground reply from rifles and anti-aircraft batteries, although none was brought down.

Several native huts near the Imperial palace were blown up, but the palace itself, was not hit.

The bombing followed several days

ROCKET PLANE FLIGHT FLOPS

Another Try Will Be Made

Expect To Have Rocket In Shape By Next Sunday For Experiment

DAMAGE SLIGHT IN FIRST MISHAP

By L. E. LEVICK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., Feb. 10.—After braving deadly, 3,000-degree backfire flames, as "America's first mail-carrying rocket airplane" flopped here on its initial flight, Willy Ley today began to overhaul the 14-foot machine for another trial test next Sunday.

Directed by Frido W. Kessler, New York sponsor of the flight, Ley and other rocket scientists will rebuild the crushed 17-foot span of wings and change fuel feedlines to overcome freezing.

Clad in asbestos suit and hood, Ley applied the electric torch to the fuel mixture of liquid oxygen and alcohol, designed to push the plane forward by 15-second "recoil" spurts of exploding gas.

Quickly white-robed Ley rushed away across the still whiter Greenwood like, frozen solid between its New York and New Jersey shores..

Hissing brilliant-hued flame from its tail-end, the 100-pound duraluminum ship, loaded with 6,127 pieces of mail, shot 35 feet up an inclined catapult, hesitated an instant in mid-air, then fell flat on its "stomach" to the snow-cushioned ice.

It cost $1,500 to build, Kessler said, but damage was slight. In a first attempt, it belched flames but failed to mount the catapult.

A companion ship—both were christened "Gloria" before the tests—still awaits trial.

low at 7 a. m. today while weather forecasters saw no relief in sight for at least twenty-four hours.

Below Zero At St. Louis

St. Louis, too, was still in the grip of the numbing cold. For the first time since 1918 the Mississippi river was frozen over to the north edge of the city. At 7 a. m. it was four below zero with continued cold predicted for today and tonight.

Michigan reported six more deaths in the polar cold, including three men given up as dead when they drifted from shore on an ice floe at Charlevoix. Fifty couples attended a Saturday night dance near Utica were snowed in by drifts and had to spend the night there.

One death was reported in Ohio when Mrs. Dorothy Everspaugh, 19, was killed when her car skidded off the icy road at Newark, Ohio. Temperatures of one above at Cincinnati and three above at Cleveland were recorded during the night.

Pennsylvania reported near zero readings in the western sections, but milder weather in the east. Four deaths were indirectly due to the cold over the week-end.

New York Battles Cold

New York's metropolitan area reported one death and scores injured over the week-end. Frigid blasts sent the temperatures down to around ten degrees above zero while 17,000 men were pressed into service to remove ice from the streets this morning.

One death resulted from a whipping storm in Connecticut. Six inches of snow was followed by rain and fog and near zero weather. Highway traffic was virtually halted. In Washington, D. C., weather forecasters predicted a drop of 10 above for tonight.

Most of New England caught only the tail end of the blizzard. Maine, however, got nine inches of snow and parts of western Massachusetts five inches. Seven CCC youths were marooned on a cake of ice off Brewster, in Cape Cod Bay. An eighty-four year record was broken when teachers and pupils walked out on the ice of Boston Harbor, touching all 13 islands. Temperatures touched near zero levels.

Missouri Roads Blocked

Roads in northern Missouri were blocked by snow. Maryville Mo., was threatened with a fuel and milk shortage. It was three below zero at Kansas City at 7 a. m. today. Lowest temperatures recorded in the area were 32 below at Mason City, Iowa, and fourteen below at Des Moines. One death was reported in Iowa while others are expected to become known when highways are cleared of the giant snow drifts.

Two men froze to death in Pueblo, N. M. Montana and Wyoming were still in the grip of the Arctic cold with recorded temperatures of 26 below at Miles City and 16 below at Lander. Denver reported a reading of 10 above during the night.

The cold wave was broken in Texas where rising temperatures sent the mercury to 48 above at Dallas. Along the Pacific Coast in California beaches were crowded with bathers as the thermometers reached 62 in San Francisco, but in the northwest it was still cold with a reading of 20 at Portland.

Your Income Tax In Brief

NO. 13.
DEDUCTION FOR BUSINESS EXPENSES

Deductions for business expenses for a large item in the return of many taxpayers and must have certain qualities to be allowed. Such deduction must be for an expenditure in connection with the maintenance and operation of the taxpayer's business or business properties; it must be an ordinary expense and it must be a necessary expense. In insisting upon the latter qualifications, the Bureau of Internal Revenue is upheld by the Board of Tax Appeals and the courts. Ordinary and necessary expenses are only those which are usual and essential in the case of similar taxpayers, "and do not include extraordinary and nonessential expenses."

Typical business expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks, and other employees, rent, light, heat, water, stationery, stamps, telephone, property insurance and delivery expenses.

The expense of a manufacturing business include labor, supplies, repairs, light and heat, power, selling cost, administration and other similar charges.

The farmer may deduct all amounts paid in the production, harvesting, and marketing of crops, including labor, cost of sted and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to farm buildings (other than his dwelling), and small tools used in the course of a year or two. A taxpayer may conduct more than one business and claim the business deductions of each.

London, Feb. 10—Belated reports received from Addis Ababa today indicated a higher death toll in yesterday's Italian air raid at Dessye than had been reported in earlier dispatches.

The Central News Agency reported 15 Ethiopians were killed in the raid on Emperor Haile Selassie's northern headquarters and the Exchange Telegraph agency reported 10 dead and many wounded.

Italian planes were sighted only 20 miles from Addis Ababa itself, Central News reported.

The fatality estimates were believed raised by deaths today of those seriously wounded by the rain of Italian bombs.

issues, without having these issues subordinated by a battle over the constitution.

2. He fears a major contest to change the constitution may divide his progressive following, despite Norris' attitude, and drive many progressives into the Republican camp.

3. He hopes to win the support of Senator William E. Borah (R) of Idaho, in event the latter is defeated for the Republican presidential nomination by an old guard "regular" and he realizes he can never win Borah's support if the constitution becomes a major issue.

The president's decision, of course, will not apply to the so-called proposed "non-political" amendments. In this class would be proposed amendments to tax federal tax-free securities, to outlaw war, to restrict employment of aliens and to give suffrage to the District of Columbia.

It does apply to such proposed amendments as that of Norris to give the supreme court exclusive power to declare acts of congress unconstitutional. This proposed amendment would take that power from all lesser federal courts.

LOCATE SEVEN YOUTHS ADRIFT ON FLOATING ICE

after he saw the youths cast adrift when a large portion of the ice floe broke.

Ellis watched the boys through powerful binoculars as they continued to walk on the floating ice unaware, apparently, that they were adrift. Swept by a southwest wind and pulled by the receding tide, the ice rapidly separated from the floe. Ellis called Lieutenant Julio Xavier, is in charge of CCC Company 1189, East Brewster, where the seven boys were stationed.

Xavier called coastguardsmen, three of whom put out in a life boat which was abandoned a half mile from shore as the men became exhausted by their fight to row against the ice.

Dressed in warm winter CCC clothes, the boys left camp yesterday to hike across the ice field to Wellfleet. They had been walking but a short time when Ellis saw the ice break.

The boys were tentatively identified as Tony Ray, -8; Manuel J. Botelio, 19, and Albert M. V. Papa, 18, of West Warwick, R. I.; Nicholas S. Scungio, 18, and Norman R. Beaulieu, 18, of Pawtucket, R. I.; Thomas G. Malone, 17, and John E. Fitzsimmons, 19, of Portsmouth, R. I.

There is no use of our advertising the price of caskets as we still contend, and claim we are able to prove, that the public knows so little about caskets that it is impossible for them to tell within a large amount the difference between two caskets shown them. One can pay eighteen dollars for a suit of clothes or pay sixty dollars and at a glance or without examination or wearing same it is impossible for the ordinary person to tell the difference, if they did not know the make of the two suits.

You must place your FAITH in the Funeral Director you call and select one who has been successful in business and in whom others have trusted, to give you the best that it is possible to do and maintain respectable equipment and an up-to-date establishment and make a reasonable profit.

Any Funeral Director if he thought he was losing business would be able to sell caskets at an unheard of price but what the quality would be and how long he would stay in business would be another question.

WE DO NOT LEND OR RENT OUR CHAIRS. THEY ARE FOR FUNERAL WORK ONLY.

HAVE YOU THE UTTERMOST FAITH IN YOUR FUNERAL DIRECTOR?

Children's Colds Should Have This Safe Treatment

Young Mothers Benefit From Two Generations' Proof Of External Treatment.

IT AVOIDS CONSTANT "DOSING"

There's nothing like a child's cold to upset a young mother. And mothers of two generations, anxious to help end colds, have depended on Vicks VapoRub. It is effective—external—and safe. It avoids the risks of constant "dosing," so often upsetting to children's delicate digestions.

Just rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, VapoRub acts direct—two ways at once:

1. By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster—
2. By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, released by body heat and breathed in direct to irritated air-passages.

Continuing through the night, this combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion.

A Practical Guide for Mothers

Each year, more and more families are being helped to fewer colds and shorter colds by Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Plan has been clinically tested by practicing physicians, and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of the Plan in each package of Vicks VapoRub.

Over 53/26/17 Million Vick Aids Used Yearly for Better Control of Colds

CHARLES CURTIS

THOUGH Charles Curtis, former vice president, whose death occurred suddenly on Saturday at Washington was half Yankee, three-eighths French and only one-eighth Indian, the romance of his astonishing rise "from blanket Indian to vice president" derives from those first eight years which he "rode horses and learned very little" on a Kaw reservation in Kansas.

His ride to national distinction began when his wrinkled Indian grandmother put him on a pony and sent him back to his white ancestors.

A high school commencement oration which impressed the wife of a prominent lawyer opened a career whose stepping stones led from the bar to prosecuting attorney, fifteen years in the house and twenty years as senator before he reached the vice presidency.

His ability as a parliamentarian and diagnostician of legislative situations was recognized in his succession to Henry Cabot Lodge as majority leader of the senate, and later dignified his responsibilities as presiding officer of that body.

His courage revealed as a boy, trudging miles for aid for his tribe against an attack, remained an outstanding characteristic of his career.

But his humanness and his genius for fellowship made the full roundness of a career which was distinguished for public usefulness.

His death will be deeply mourned by those in national life in the nation.

THE PEER OF THEM ALL

At various times as the decades have swept along our boyhood and adult admiration has gone out in unstinted measure to great heroes of the diamond. Cy Young, Napoleon Lajoie, Honus Wagnes, Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson—each in his day has thrilled the heart and spirit of the man in the stands or the bleachers as he has moved with grace and power to perform his wonders in the field and at bat.

All of these great heroes, to say nothing of the immortal Babe Ruth, deserve to live long in the memories of sincere lovers of the national game. But the judges who have placed Tyrus Raymond Cobb in the number one position in baseball's permanent Hall of Fame have been guided, we believe, by notable precisianism and discernment.

Looking back upon the flaming career of the brilliant Georgian and studying the record of the twenty-four triumphant years, we find that nowhere in the long and luminous history of baseball was there such a brilliant performance as this fiery genius.

Here was a player who was a terror at bat, the personification of grace and perfect performance in the field, one who set the nerves of the multitude on edge when he was on base, a desperate fighter every minute of the nine innings. Great players will come and go but it is doubtful if we shall ever see his like again.

WHITE HOUSE PHOTOGRAPHS

President Roosevelt does not like informal press pictures when they show him in an attitude that might be misconstrued. Recently an enterprising "snapper up of unconsidered trifles" took a picture of him that, in the hands of an imaginative caption writer, became something quite different from what it was intended to be and the president was justifiably incensed. Flashlights are blinding affairs and even a president can be weary of their repetition to the extent of shielding his eyes.

The informal photograph, as every snap-shotter knows, can be too informal for words, and the latter school of photographers who take pictures by hand camera, often without the knowledge of the subject, may produce interesting effects, but they are not necessarily accurte in revelation of intent. Especially should the president be shielded from such possible misconceptions. He is usually a patient man and he knows the avidity of the picture scanners among the reading public as well as do the photographers, yet there should be some mercy. The picture in question shows a tired president; not tired of his job, but tired of the particular glare of an intense light bulb. So from now on the white house photographers must mount their cameras on tripods and pictures be taken simultaneously by all to get them over with.

It seems a mild enough restriction. Even a president may want to rub his eyes occasionally.

HIGHER MEDICAL STANDARDS

Those ill-advised persons who want medical school course adjusted so physicians could be turned out "more cheaply" are being told by leading members of the medical profession that what the country needs is not cheaper but better medical men. The danger of making a medical education easier to obtain is that the finished product would become poorer in quality.

Medical school standards are being raised in the United States and there is still room for improvement, a fact the best of them will admit.

There are, and should be, ways of providing a medical education for young men and women of ability but no financial means, and there are, and should be, ways of excluding from the medical schools those lacking in ability but not in money.

It is believed that medical schools fully appreciate their great opportunity and that the great body of undergraduate and practicing physicians are as fully cognizant of their responsibility. The average medical man today is far better qualified than his predecessor.

Much sentiment has been wasted on the passing of the "country doctor." But those very sentimentalists would leave him starve to death if he were in their midst. He fulfilled a great humanitarian and medical need, and did it nobly, but the need for him is no longer as great as formerly. He was a good doctor but not as able as the modern specialist.

History repeats itself and now the word comes back that it's a long way to Addis Ababa.

We could plow under about fifty per cent of the crop of false prophets and still have far too many.

Dr. Mann, of the national zoo, says there isn't an okapi in the country. Perhaps that's the trouble with the country.

Why not use that lie detector on some of the politicians who present arguments in defense of governmental extravagance?

Where The Money Goes.
By ARTHUR BRiSBANE

ALL THAT KNEW HIM, learn with sorrow, of the sudden death of Charles Curtis, former vice president of the United States. He was an American, a real one, proud of the red Indian blood in his veins. As a boy, he rode horse races well and honestly; as a man, he rode the political race fairly. As vice president, he was content with the position that the American people and constitution gave him. He would have made a good and loyal president, had destiny so willed it.

RUSSIA'S "League of Atheists," meeting in Boston, regretfully reports: "Religion is still stubbornly holding on in Soviet Russia," confirming Voltaire's saying: "If there had not been a God it would have been necessary to invent one."

Russian atheists boast "our children know God as only a word in the dictionary." And "Nina Kaneva," young blonde Russian girl holding the world's record for "delayed" parachute jumps, says:

"I have flown high in the air, many, many jumps, and I never saw any God or angels."

THAT WAS BETTER said long ago by an agnostic astronomer: "I have swept the heavens with my telescope and find no sign of a God." Another scientist, asked by Napoleon, "What do you think about God?" replied Je n' ai pas besoin de cette hypothese "I have no need of that hypothesis."

A fish two miles down in the Pacific Ocean might say, "I have thoroughly explored these waters and see no sign of Pike's Peak, therefore there is no Pike's Peak."

DR. G. A. STEVENSON, "fellow" in the university college of Oxford, suggests to the London Times that the Pax rommanna, "Roman peace," of ancient times when Rome ruled the world and would allow no fighting, should be followed now by a Pax Britannic "Peace British." England ruling the world telling everybody what to do.

EUROPE CALLS the suggestion of England ruling the world a joke; but that can't be done in this country. We go to England now for permission to build battleships, or tilt our cannon; England has just "rejected" the United States request for permission to build 35,000 ton ships. Why we want such big targets for airplanes and torpedoes, heaven knows.

Tokio has thus far sent no application for admission to the British empire.

CAN YOU IMAGINE George Washington sending a commission to ask England "what kind of warships may I build?" When he fought the English his "regular army" numbered about 14,000, and each man had only nine cartridges.

Times and men change.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

THE FIRST TIME

I see her so plainly still, that little girl as she looked the first time she ever saw an orchestra.

I remember it more vividly, perhaps, than she does.

We were having dinner in a restaurant, where there was music, and before we knew it she had slipped from her chair and was gone.

I followed her and came upon her standing close to the musicians' platform, looking up, her eyes round and rapt, fixed on those men up there, playing a waltz.

And when she saw me, she cried: "Daddy, Daddy, they're making music! They're MAKING IT!"

It was such a miracle. It was something new and wonderful in the world. She had heard music before, coming out of a box at home.... But until that moment she had never SEEN men with violins and horns actually sitting down and reading notes and CREATING that marvelous stuff.

I have never seen a happier little girl, and I wondered then if she would always feel the joy that was in her then, that lifted her so.... She was tasting the exquisite joy of stumbling upon Beauty for THE FIRST TIME—and I remember then that I hoped that beauty heard again and again in the years to come would always hold this joyful surprise for her....If so, she would be a happy woman.

It is this precious talent of rediscovering the strangely beautiful in life that makes for happiness in all men and women....That beauty is in little gardens, it is on high mountain peaks; it is in the quiet or in the raging seas, visible to the naked eye, present to the telescope, lying beneath the eye of the microscope, in dawn, in twilight, in all men and women, in youth, in old age.

What we acclaim, another may pass unnoticed. What we miss may seem a lovely miracle to some other man or woman. Though pain and heartbreak may come to a man, his life may still be rich if he can keep in his heart some of the joy that the little girl knew when she first saw music being made.

I have known youngtsers who never had this! I have known oldsters who never lost it....and the difference in their happiness was wide as the sky, deep as the ocean.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:29; sun rises tomorrow 7:00.

When the weather is nice and warm and the birds are singing in the trees, we've a lot of respect for the weather man, but we're rapidly losing it, and if February don't turn out better than January, we're going to cut the weather man off our calling list.

Travel is a cure for a desire to go to war, according to Claudia Cranston, Texas girl, who travels and writes. Now if she would only explain how everybody is going to travel, we'll accept her diagnosis.

SHOOTING GALLERY

Mike O'Shea obtained a position at an observatory and spent much of his time watching the professors at the telescope.

One day a professor walked in, went to a telescope, and began to make observations. Just then a star fell. Mike gasped.

"Begorra, that was a fine shot, sir," he said, with a great admiration. "Why ye hardly had time to take aim at it."

At Normandy, France the county council passed an ordinance requiring highway pedestrians to carry lanterns at night, "so they will not be run down." Not a bad idea. Everybody who drives has probably had the experience of nearly striking a pedestrian, when the lights of an approaching car blinded. Some pedestrians don't seem to realize the danger of staying on the concrete when two cars are about to pass in opposite directions.

2—Why is coal the most contradictory article used in commerce?

3—Why are laws like the ocean?

4—What time is it when the clock strikes 13?

5—Why is a straw hat like the kissing over a telephone.

ANSWERS

For those of you can't solve them, here are the answers:

1—Because it keeps it Stock-holm.

2—Because, when purchased, instead of going to the buyer, it goes to the cellar.

3—Because most of the trouble is caused by breakers.

4—Time to have the clock fixed.

5—Because neither is felt.

It seems fair enough. Every time the radical gets more relief the conservatives gets more tax-free securities.

Dear Miss Markel: When unexpected visitors arrive while I am listening to a favorite radio program—one for which I have been waiting all day—should I turn it off or have my guests listen to it along with me? RADIO FAN.

Answer: I cannot imagine a greater discourtesy to your guests than drowning out their conversation with a radio program.

After all, when people pay you the courtesy of visiting you, they deserve the consideration of your undivided attention, and, at least, a pretension on your part that they interest you more than your radio.

Of course, if, without any suggestion from you, they express the desire to listen to the program, well and good; but when they arrive make the gesture of turning off the radio.

Only recently I heard a man criticize his hostess for this very demonstration of rudeness. She forced him to sit in silence and listen to a program which bored him. He remained until the program was finished; then left abruptly, very chagrined at the treatment he had received.

Vandenberg To Benefit May Gain By Borah Fight Those Ultra New Dealers

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—One Republican observes with equanimity the entrance of Senator William E. Borah into Ohio to give open battle to the regulars. That man is Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan.

The stage had all been set for "favorite sons" in Ohio and elsewhere, to permit a "trading basis" at the national convention in Cleveland.

Senator Borah objected to that. The "favorite son" states could swing enough votes to nominate Governor Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Now Senator Borah will fight a battle royal with the regulars, and try to prevent the choosing of "favorite sons" in such big states as Ohio.

Adherents of Senator Vandenberg believe that when the two sides have battled themselves to exhaustion, he will be able to capture the nomination.

BORAH MAY WIN

Senator Borah may win out at that, in Ohio. The machine Republicans in Cleveland, as well as the progressive Republicans, have lined up for Borah.

PROSPERITY

New Dealers are making much of this paragraph in The Wall Street Journal:

"Earnings of E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., from its chemical business last year, were by far the largest in the company's history, exceeding even 1929 by about 18 per cent and 1928 by more than 80 per cent, the company's annual statement reveals."

ALSO QUOTED

Also quoted by ultra-New Dealers is this comment made by Dr. Charles-Edward A. Winslow, professor of public health at Yale School of Medicine (speaking before the New Jersey Institute of Family Relations):

"If we build model housing projects in slum districts and expect the investment to pay, we defeat our purpose. The poor cannot pay the rent. They move out, and higher income, white-collar groups move in. The only solution is to provide subsidies to help these people pay the rent. If we put them into model houses, with subsidies, they will respond quickly to their new environment."

Comptroller General McCarl, Republican, recently ruled that rent on governmental housing projects would have to be sufficiently high to liquidate the investment.

ULTRA NEW DEALERS

Just where do the ultra-New Dealers stand today?

They wish they knew.

They believe President Roosevelt has zig-zagged so far to the right (to them) as election nears, that there is little New Deal left.

Will they continue to support the president? They wonder where else they can turn.

Their belief is that once the election has passed (if the president is re-elected) he may return to their beliefs.

DIFFICULT TASK

The busiest offices in Washington are the executive offices at the White House.

Work goes on there far into the night.

The public does not realize how much work the president goes through during a day. It is because he desires to see "everything". He knows he will be blamed if there is a slipup.

The president's secretaries, however, realize how much work he undertakes.

Their hours are health breaking.

The president, realizing this, takes only one secretary with him on a trip. That gives the one at home a rest.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

JUST THE SAME

Thomas Bailey Aldrich wrote several very interesting American stories. He wrote in the "Horse and Buggy" age, when men generally had both feet on the ground. Human nature was about the same, however, in the days of Aldrich, as it is in the day of Upton Sinclair.

Aldrich writes in his novel "The Stillwater Tragedy" about a workingman's strike and one of the Thinkers among the workingmen talks to a fat head as follows:

"William," said Stevens meditatively, 'do you know about the Siamese twins?"

"What about 'em—they're dead, ain't they?" replied Durgin, with surprise.

"I believe so; but when they were alive, if you was to pinch one of those fellows, the other fellow would sing out. If you was to black the eye of the left-hand chap, the right-hand chap wouldn't have been able to see for a week. When either of 'em fetched the other a clip, he knocked himself down. Labor and capital is jined just as those two was. When you've got this fact well into your skull William, I shall be pleased to listen to your ideas at Grimsey's Hall or anywhere else.

It is no different today.

Correctly Speaking—

In modern usage, "whose" is the possessive case of "who" only, though originally also of "which", and sometimes still is so used.

Feb. 10, 1775—An autobiographer was provided with a subject.

"Charles Lamb, born in the Inner Temple, 10th Feb., 1775; educated in Christ's hospital; afterwards a clerk in accountants' office, East India House; pensioned off from that service 1825, after 33 years' service; is now a gentleman at large; can remember few specialties in his life worth noting, except that he once caught a swallow flying. Below the middle stature....; stammers abominably, and is therefore more apt to discharge his occasional conversation in a quaint aphorism, or a poor quibble, than in set and edifying speeches; has consequently been libelled as a person aiming at wit; which, as he told a dull fellow who charged him with it, is at least as good as aiming at dullness."

Feb. 10, 1846—Ira Remsen was born. He was 33 when he discovered that there was something 250 times sweeter than sugar in a lump of coal—orthobenzeoic-sulphinide, or Saccharin.

He was then professor of chemistry in Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, and he gave his discovery to the world without profit.

It's True—The whale isn't the only monster of the deep; some squids are bigger than whales. A 30-foot squid was caught off St. John's, Newfoundland, in November, 1874. The squid propels itself backward and forward on the principle of the rocket, by means of a "nozzle", and can conceal itself with a "smoke screen". Fights between squids and whales are perhaps the most spectacular struggles between any creatures.

The Canary Islands are named aftes dogs, not after birds.

William H. Reger, Camden, N. J. doubts the story published here that Robert E. Lee's mother was buried in a tomb, apparently dead, before Lee was born. There is a record of it in Tebb and Collum's "Premature Burial" and at least two members of the Lee family wrote that they had heard it from the general himself.

Cause And Cure For War Council To Meet Thursday

A regular meeting of the Lawrence County Council on the Cause and Cure of War will be held Thursday, February 13, at 8 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. to which interested persons are invited. The program will take the form of a demonstration "marathon round table" on the subject "Neutrality" and will include a report on the 11th conference on the Cause and Cure of War recently held in Washington.

Mrs. William Cosel, who attended the conference, reports that for the second time a set of press notices arranged by the local committee appeared with those from representative newspapers from coast to coast and received first mention in its classification. Mrs. Mary Bell Harper, chairman of press projects, has referred to it as "an ideal picture of community activity for 'peace' education."

Regarding this Mrs. Cosel says: "It was very gratifying to me as chairman of the Lawrence County Council on the Cause and Cure of War to have our exhibit especially singled out and praised as a model. So it is with a deep sense of appreciation that the local committee thanks the owners of The News and the editor for their valued editorials and the generous space given to notices on the general theme, peace."

THE VALUE of the printed word is variable. Some races consider it a sin to destroy any written word, they will pick a discarded piece of printed paper from the mud—writing is such a great miracle.

A first edition of "Alice in Wonderland," because it is a first edition, sells in London for nearly $5,000. A first edition of "Pilgrim's Progress," printed to sell for two pence because the publisher expected only servant girls to buy it, is worth many thousands to any book collector now.

IF YOU WONDER "where all the tax money goes" read this:

"In six months the state of New York paid $801,612 for official automobile expense," and that does not include automobiles for the department of mental hygiene. One official discharged his chauffeur, paid by taxpayers, accusing him of cheating the state out of $2,000 in one year through dishonest gasoline and repair vouchers. That is almost "a business."

"CHARLIE" SCHWAB may be 70 years old, but he still "knows his way around." The government tried to get $19,654,856 from Schwab's Bethlehem Steel Company, alleging profiteering. Instead of giving the government 19 million dollars, the "special master" hearing evidence, says the government must pay $5,666,154 to Schwab and Bethlehem Steel. No wonder Carnegie, who was Scotch, thought a good deal of Schwab.

DR. SILBERSTINE, of Toronto, contradicts Prof. Einstein's relativity theories, and Dr. Page, of Yale, thinks he has extended the Einstein relativity theory from interstellar space to the inside of the atom.

Prof. Einstein answers both good naturedly. If only eight men could understand Einstein's theory originally, four, perhaps, can understand the new discussion.

SENATOR BORAH, Republican candidate for president, had luncheon with President Roosevelt. WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Labor Party Is Now Predicted

Potential Force In 1940 Seen As A Result Of Lewis Movement

GREEN OPPOSES IDEA VIGOROUSLY

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—John L. Lewis' industrial union movement shows an increasing tendency toward a national labor party.

Except in one instance, it always has been the A. F. of L.'s policy to keep clear of partisan politics. Its members naturally have had their preferences as between platforms and candidates, but collectively they have avoided indorsements—except, as previously remarked once; they did indorse the elder Senator Robert M. La Follette for president in 1924. And many old timers, while they warmly approved of the late Senator La Follette, think that that was an error.

Samuel Gompers established the long-recognized A. F. of L. principle that unionism functions most effectively independently of party tie-ups.

Ever since his time his school of thought has been predominant of the federation's counsels. The leadership of England's workers has reached the desirability of a Labor party, as a separate entity, but leaders of American workers have remained unconvinced—until just now, maybe.

LEWIS' PROGRAM

Under the late President Gompers and President William Green, A. F. of L.'s craft interpretation of what constitutes labor has been pretty narrow—so much so that the federation's membership has been limited to approximately 4,000,000 too few to class as a party. It has been more in the nature of a lobby.

President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, the apostle of industrial versus craft unionism, aims at a membership of nearly 10,000,000—a great plenty for a party, or for the nucleus of one, anyway.

The orthodox A. F. of L. theory is that "labor" consists of the personnels engaged in certain especially trained groups of hand workers—and it wants them pretty well paid, too, or their dues are not worth having. It has neglected the less skilled trades and it hasn't been willing to admit that a so-called "salaried man" (for example, a reporter, like me) is "labor at all.

John L. Lewis proposes to scoop all genuine labor into industrialism.

WHY GREEN OPPOSES?

The A. F. of L., represented by President Green, doesn't want Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and chairman of the committee in industrial organization to succeed in doing this.

Why not?

Well, heretofore an A. F. of L. 4,000,000 strong, has been a dog potent enough to wag or disregard a tail consisting of 40,000,000 workers.

If Lewis does succeed a 40,000,000 industrial set-up undoubtedly will be vigorous enough to wag what's left of a 4,000,000 A. F. of L. to a frazzle—to wag to death, in all probability.

MOVE THAT FRIGHTENED

What essentially frightens A. F. of L. is the United Mine Workers' recent vote of indorsement of the Roosevelt administration.

The indorsement in itself, was defiant of A. F. of L. principles.

But the insurgents did worse. They offered their money in F. D. R's support in the next campaign; there is something mighty convincing in an offer of money.

NEW PARTY IN 1940?

A new political Labor party will not be launched this year; this is too soon.

But 1936 seems to see the beginning of it.

At a guess the 1940 issue will be between Lewis' (vertical) and Greens (horizontal) concepts of unionism.

Our tense modern life affects DIGESTION

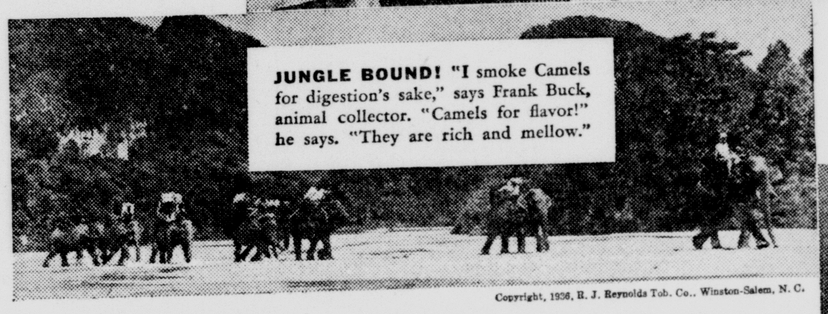

BRAKES SCREAM as traffic clogs the street from curb to curb. Nerves quiver with fatigue. Feel those stomach muscles tighten? Light a Camel for digestion's sake.

And now we come to one of modern life's most gracious privileges—dining at Keen's English Chop House in New York, as shown at the right. Like the Mermaid Tavern of Shakespeare's day, Keen's is famous as a gathering place of congenial spirits.

"We've noticed that patrons who appreciate fine foods also appreciate fine tobaccos," says William (above), of Keen's. "Camels are a favorite at Keen's English Chop House. We've noticed that our guests who smoke Camels during and after meals seem to find more pleasure in dining"

JUNGLE BOUND! "I smoke Camels for digestion's sake," says Frank Buck, animal collector. "Camels for flavor!" he says. "They are rich and mellow."

Smoking Camels Found to Ease the Strain and Promote Well-Being

Life gets more complex. The pace grows faster. People live harder. Where do we see the effects? Frequently on digestion, so often overtaxed by the busy whirl! Smoking Camels is of definite aid in promoting good digestion. Turn to Camels yourself. They have a mildness and delicacy that never grow flat or tiresome. Make the pleasant experience of smoking Camels part of your daily life, and see how much more zest you have for smoking and how your digestion is measurably improved. Camels set you right!

MURRAY MURDOCK (in center), of the N. Y. Rangers, has played over 500 straight hockey games. "I often have to eat and run," Murray says. "Smoking Camels helps to digest my food."

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

STUTTERING CHILDREN

About five times as many boys as girls stutter. We do not know why. I have a notion that it is because boys, with greater dread of being cowards, have more repressed fears than girls.

On stuttering in the young child, I wrote in my book, "Building Personality":

"It may be that an occasional adult is helped or actually cured by mechanical treatments, such as rhythmical breathing or phonic and vocal exercise, where the instructor can gain the complete confidence of the patient. Even then the effect is primarily psychological. . . .

"Of course, you say that an occasional stuttering child does seem to get help from the mechanical drills, and so he may. But when he does, there will be a relapse unless the emotional condition, under which his difficulty has arisen and been re-enforced, are corrected. The parents, putting their faith in this 'expert', will annoy the patient less and will encourage him more. The 'expert' may also show the family and the teacher how to reduce the emotional tension in the home and school. . . .

"We parents have the greatest responsibility for preventing stuttering, and the greatest opportunity for correcting it. Practically every child, when acquiring speech, stutters to some extent. All surely are potential stutterers. When the child stutters you and others in his presence are inclined to turn your eyes upon his mouth. This response emphasizes awareness of his difficulty, causing him to grow worse. Train yourself not to look at him at all, but to act as if all were well. Provided you are facing him, look right into his eyes with an air of assurance. In case you know the word he is laboring to say, give it in a most casual manner. Don't tell him to repeat, don't say, 'wait' or 'not so fast'. Merely listen patiently . . . Prove in his presence that you have perfect poise and calm. To this end train yourself to speak in soft, quiet tones, avoiding excitement and unnecessary noise. See that the child does not become agitated or greatly fatigued. . . .

"Work hand-in-hand with your physician to build him up physically. Once the physical conditions of the child are properly cared for, the speech expert will be most successful, as a rule, if he has no further contact with the child, but effects remedial treatment through the parents, the teacher and others who have a part in his guidance. . . .

"In some cases the stutterer should be put to bed for several days, or should take one of two daily naps. To come in from play half an hour before the evening meal, to spend the time quietly alone. . . wholly relaxed, should be helpful. The whole program of family relationships, designed to further quiet, happy guidance of the child, is indispensable to relief.

"Treat stuttering as an emotional difficulty. Consider it a personality problem. Anything you do to cultivate a comfortable and likable personality in the child will save him from stuttering, and if he be afflicted, will help him to recover."

Cards featured, Donald Hoffman and Mrs. Ruben Pratt carrying off the prizes for 500 and in "Brisco" Cesar Orielli received the award. Following the contests, a bountiful lunch was served by the hostess, a large five tiered birthday cake, claiming much attention. Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo, Mrs. Frank Santi, Mrs. Guy Angelucci, Mrs. E. H. Scarazzo, Ellen DiMatteo and Connie Zambelli, assisted. Seasonal decorations were used effectively throughout.

At a most appropriate time, the guest of honor was presented with a large number of gifts, in remembrance of the event.

Third Birthday Honored

Mrs. Walter List, of Edenburg, entertained a number of little friends in her home on a recent evening, to do honor to her son, Ronald Gene, who became three years old. PITTSBURGH, Feb. 10.—Delay of the "showdown" meeting in the tilt between Gov. George H. Earle and Chancellor John Bowman over liberalization at the University of Pittsburgh apeared possible today after efforts to gather the school's 33 trustees fell short of the necessary quorum.

The executive committee of seven trustees decided last Friday to call the group into session this week to act on the differences between the school and the state administration, which has threatened Pitt with loss of its $1,188,000 biennial grant, but were unable to reach the required member of counsellors. The committee is expected to meet again to reply to the governor's edict.

Italian World War Vets Warned Against Schemes

Commander Concilla Finds That Most Of Money Will Go Into Good Hands

Commander Frank Concilla, of the Italian-American World War Veterans, issued a warning to members of the Lawrence county unit to beware of schemes offered by promoters to separate them from their bonus money, at their recent meeting in King Humbert hall.

Urging the veterans to use utmost care in putting their money into ventures suggested by outsiders, he asks all members of the local organization to report such schemes to him for investigation.

A poll taken among the local veterans shows that mighty few are planning any whoopee with their money. Almost a third of the money will be used to pay off debts, 17 per cent will be laid aside in savings accounts, 14 per cent will go into home repairs, 11 per cent into real estate, 8 per cent for furniture and home equipment, 8 per cent for new clothes, 7 per cent for automobiles, and 4 per cent for miscellaneous items.

W. P. A. Workers Must Not Shirk

National And State Directors Send Orders To Local Area Director

Shirkers on Works Project Administration projects will not be tolerated in District 14, Director J. Vale Downie stated today. Acting under the orders received in a letter from State Director Edward N. Jones, which originated with National Administrator Harry L. Hopkins Mr. Downie expects to see to it that men on projects give a reasonable day's work for their money.

The letter follows:

"It is the policy of the Works Progress Administration that projects shall be operated with the maximum degree of efficiency that is compatible with carrying out the primary purpose of the work program, which is to transfer people from the relief rolls to useful work. In the great majority of cases, workers to whom employment has been given have shown that they desire to render conscientious service.

"Reports have been received, however, that in certain instances a small proportion of workers have detracted from the efficiency of operation of projects by their unwillingness to deliver a fair day's work coupled with a belief that their employment would be continued regardless of their attitude. Workers employed on Works Progress Administration projects are expected to render as conscientious service to that administration as they would to a regular government department or a private employer. Habitual and intentional shirking will not be tolerated.

"In cases of demonstrated shirking or misconduct, employees may be suspended without pay for periods not exceeding one month, or they may be discharged. Since foremen and supervisors are responsible that conscientious service is rendered by all employees under their jurisdiction, those who habitually permit shirking by workers who are under their direction may similarly be suspended or discharged. Employees discharged for these reasons will not again be employed by the Works Progress Administration either on the same or another project, nor will they be certified for employment to any other Government agency which is participating in the work program unless they can demonstrate that the discharge was not warranted.

"State Administrators are responsible that the contents of this letter are brought to the attention of all employees and that its provisions are enforced.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must get at the cause—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the intestines, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Irvine Heard At Scout Service

City-Wide Anniversary Service Takes Place At First U. P.

The life of Abraham Lincoln was extolled as the life of a real scout by Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, as he preached the annual Boy Scout Week sermon before 200 Boy Scouts and adult scout leaders and a public congregation in the Clenmore boulevard church last night.

The service, part of New Castle's observance of the 26th anniversary of scouting, was participated in by representatives of troops from all parts of the city.

With Dr. Irvine on the pulpit platform were Scout Commissioner Ralph F. Davis, who led the scouts in a mass recitation of the scout oath, and Scoutmaster E. D. Hawk of Troop 3, the First U. P. troop, who read the evening's scripture lesson.

Before the service the uniformed scouts assembled in the church basement and marched into the auditorium in a body, preceded by bearers of the church and scout troop flags. They filed quietly down the main aisle of the church between the scouters, the leaders of scouting here. They marched out in a body, too.

Attending with the scouts, their parents and the public were council officers and others active in scout circles here.

The American Boy Scout movement was 26 years old on Saturday.

Volunteer Sleuth Held As Suspect

New York Police May Solve Mystery Murders Of Several Years Ago

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—After 24 hours of grilling in the Mary Helen O'Connor, the Fred Hart and the notorious "3-X" murders, Frederick Hansen, 60, a former police sergeant, today was taken to the state hospital in Kings Park for examination by alienists.

Hansen, a giant weighing more than 200 pounds, came to Queens authorities last week with a strange request to work on the unsolved O'Connor murder case of 1933.

The authorities were interested. They soon found he knew some remarkable details about not only the O'Connor case, but the Hart murder as well. They engaged him. Then, unknown to him, they put two sleuths on his own trail.

As they investigated Hansen the suspicion occurred to them that he might also be able to throw some light on the weird "3-X" murders which terrified Long Island in the summer of 1930. Like the O'Connor and Hart killings, the "3-X" murders were believed the work of a sex maniac.

Nassau District Attorney Martin W. Littleton and the police ended their game with Hansen yesterday. They let him know he was a suspect. As they grilled the retired policeman they began to doubt his mental balance. He readily consented to be examined by alienists for signs of homicidal mania.

Cwynar Comes Home On Naval Furlough

Here Now, He Returns In 15 Days To Board Permanent Ship

Maurice L. Nixon, local recruiting officer for the U. S. navy, today announced that John Stanley Cwynar, son of Frank Cwynar of the West Pittsburg road has returned to his home after spending three months at the United States Naval Training base at Norfolk, Va.

Cwynar was a member of platoon 59 and is home on a 15-day leave of absence. At the expiration of this time he will return to Norfolk to await the arrival of the U. S. S. Henderson upon which he will probably ship to join the fleet. He will then be assigned to a permanent ship for sea duty.

City Buys Fords As Police Cruisers

Council convened in the City building today and awarded a contract to the Francis Motor Sales Company for two new black V8 four-door sedan Fords for the police department. Two of the Oldsmobiles which have been in service for some time were accepted as part payment. The company put in a bid of $1,347.26, less $839.76 trade-in value for the Oldsmobiles now in use, or a net bid of $507.50. Extras will bring the cost up to $585, and the council, upon recommendation of Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Purchasing Agent Joseph Alexander and City Engineer G. R. Throop, awarded the contract for the Fords. They will be put in cruiser service when delivered.

Find Boys Who Have Been Stealing Sleds

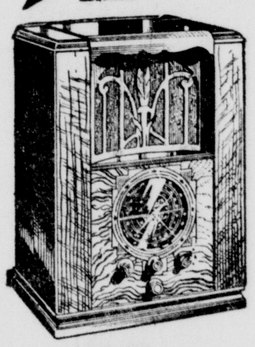

While state police, highway patrolmen and city police headed by Chief of Police John F. Haven, were making an investigation Saturday night in an effort to capture boys suspected of stealing automobiles, they discovered some boys who, when questioned, admitted having stolen sleds from the north hill. All of the boys have been ordered to appear at police headquarters. They are residents of the south side, according to Chief Haven.

REMODELING SALE

WE BELIEVE IN THE THE FUTURE OF NEW CASTLE

REYNOLDS, SUMMERS AND McCANN

New Castle's Future Is Our Future

The roots of a city lie in trade . . . and trade is built on confidence. First come the trapper and the missionary priest; then, inevitably, the traders. And the forest fell away as the rude frontier stores arose. Courageous all, were these merchants to the wilderness. It takes just such courage for a merchant today in keeping his store abreast of the times. The confidence of our customers is the one thing we prize above everything else. And we plan to retain this confidence in remodelling our store for a more cheerful place to shop and a more convenient store to render up-to-the-minute service.

"More For Your Money"

is probably the most popular set of words in a store's vocabulary. Like most promises, it can mean nothing or it can mean a great deal, depending on who gives it. You can be quite sure, of, "More for your Money" by taking advantage of our remodelling sale values. Carpenters, plumbers, electricians and decorators must have room to work and our $35,000 stock must be reduced in a hurry to make room for the workmen. Read this page carefully. You'll find every item a bonafide saving.

Swindle Worked For Second Time Inside One Month

FARRELL, Pa., Feb. 10—Police today sought two men who swindled Steve Zann, Beechwood avenue, out of $1,500 by the old ruse of trying to find an "honest man." Late Saturday, Zann gave the strangers his life savings in return for a trunk which they said contained $15,000, which they planned to distribute among deserving Catholic residents of Farrell.

Zann divided his $1,500 to show that his character was such that he would safeguard the trunk. Last night, he beame curious and opened the trunk to find it contained a number of newspaper clippings. Only last month, the same trick was worked successfully on a resident of Transfer near here, who also lost $1,500.

A closer inspection would reveal the members of the faculty hard at work memorizing lines and trying to remember that acting is not like explaining the binomial theorem or that all Gaul is divided into three parts.

FORESEE MUCH PARTY BOLTING IN NOVEMBER

Both Parties Are Facing Problems

G. O. P. Nomination At Cleveland Will Probably Decide Situation

DEMOCRATS FACE MANY DEFECTIONS

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Political developments since the turn of the year have convinced a great many politicians, in both parties, that the presidential election in November is going to witness more criss-crossing of party lines, more party bolting, than any election since 1912.

The bonds of regularity have been weakened in both parties to a point where the leaders vision an electorate dividing in November along politico-economic lines, rather than straight politics.

Al Smith Defection

Al Smith already has threatened to "take a walk" away from the Roosevelt banner. Moreover, he asserted there were some millions of Democrats who felt as he did. Among those millions are such party figures as John W. Davis and ex-Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts.There is ample evidence tnat the Roosevelt new deal has alienated many conservative Democrats.

On the other hand, the progressive Republicans openly threaten to take a walk for themselves if the Cleveland convention in June fails to nominate a "liberal" Republican candidate and fails to give him a "liberal" platform on which to run.

Realizing the defection on the part of the conservative Democrats, President Roosevelt is openly courting the support of these progressive Republicans. His luncheon conference with Senator Borah of Idaho, himself an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination, was a significant step in that direction.

Roosevelt Courts Liberals

In the past few weeks, Mr. Roosevelt has consulted other Republicans who are demanding a liberal candidate and a liberal platform at Cleveland, among them Senator Norris of Nebraska, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, and, more significantly, Senator Couzens, of Michigan.

Norris and LaFollette both supported the Democratic ticket in '32 and expect to do so again. Senator Couzens and Senator Borah did not support the Democratic ticket in '32, and their course in '36 will remain uncharted until it is seen what happens at Cleveland.

While the Senators have not disclosed what went on around the president's flat-topped desk at these luncheon conferences, and the White House has preserved its customary reticence, it is known that the conversations between Mr. Roosevelt and his visitors have been conducted upon an exceedingly frank basis. Mr. Roosevelt asked for frank appraisal of his administration—and got it.

Waste And Extravagance

Senator Couzens is reported to have told the president he was inclined to sympathize with the broad aims of the new deal, its social an economic objectives, but that he thought the waste and extravagance in federal spending was indefensible, and that many spots in the administration set-up were filled with incompetent men.

It was perhaps significant that after this meeting between the president and the Michigan independent that Mr. Roosevelt cancelled a billion dollars of authorized funds being held in various government lending agencies, and called in the principal spenders, Ickes, Hopkins, et al., to see what could be done about tightening up.

Democratic leaders, of course, are hoping for an old-fashioned Republican battle at Cleveland that will leave scars such as they themselves experienced at Madison Square Garden in 1924. Some of them predict a head-on clash between the Hoover and Borah elements of the convention, and in that case they believe the former president will win and that Borah will "take a walk," and take with him the considerable following that he admittedly has in the west. Others believe the Cleveland convention may be a repetition of Chicago in 1920, with Borah, Landon and Knox going into a bitter deadlock, as did Lowden, Wood and Johnson in 1920. Warren G. Harding emerged from the 1920 deadlock. The field of speculation as to who might emerge from such a situation in Cleveland is well-nigh limitless. In either case, there probably would be some Republican scars, especially if the Hoover element played any considerable part in the outcome.

In that connection, a recent White House caller who discussed politics with the president, later told friends that Mr. Roosevelt made the observation that he considered Mr. Hoover "the logical and likely" Republican choice at Cleveland.

If the president believes that, the reasons for his "wooing" the progressive Republicans become readily apparent. He knows they won't follow Mr. Hoover, or a great many of them won't, at any rate.

INJURES EYE

Sam Yannessa, of 11 East Home street, was admitted to the New Castle hospital, Saturday afternoon, due to an injury to his right eye. The boy was playing with a hatchet in the cellar of his home, when a nail which was struck by the hatchet, went astray and hit the youth in the eye.

Niagara Falls Frozen? No, Just American Falls

American falls frozen over, top; paroramic view of Niagara, below, showing where American Falls are.

Reports that Niagara Falls had been completely frozen over have caused considerable wonderment throughout the United States. However, only the American falls, shown top and left below, were frozen completely. The Canadian falls, or the Horseshoe falls, still rolls merrily on as it always has. The Canadian falls is shown at the right in the panoramic picture taken last summer. In the meantime, crowds of sightseers have been disporting themselves over the ice bridge below the fantastically frozen American falls. Niagara has become as much a winter as a summer resort.

'Hitch Hiking' Burgess Lands Job At Capitol

Burgess James A. McGowan of prospect, or rather the whilom burgess there, self styled "hitch hiking burgess", has gone to work. Well, not exactly that, he has a job. Perhaps that isn't just right either, he is going to get a salary for walking around the Pennsylvania state capitol building acting as guide.

He has been notified of his appointment by Secretary Arthur Colegrove and has already titled himself the "Big Noise". And for the next couple of years the calm and peace of the state capitol halls will be shattered with the stage whispers of Burgess Jim.

His idea of a whisper is sound that rattles the window panes four blocks away.

Anyway he has a job as a guide in the capitol. And there's this to say for him: Before he has been there long he'll probably be one Democrat who will know his way about.

P. S. The salary is $1020 per year which ought to remove the necessity of hitch hiking.

Arrange Funeral Of Veteran Judge At Greensburg, Pa.

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 10.—Death today brought to a close the long and brilliant career of William T. Dom, 63, veteran Westmoreland county judge, who was fatally stricken with a heart attack less than a day after resigning from his judicial post because of illness.

Judge Dom, suffering from heart disease for some time, was stricken after he had climbed a stairway in his home.

Not until after his sudden death did his resignation from the county common pleas bench become public. He resigned Friday night after being convinced by relatives that a nervous breakdown last September made it necessary that he take a long vacation.

Uniontown Blaze Causes Damage Of Near To $75,000

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 10.—Damages caused by a blaze which swept the plant of the Dudley Electric & Machine compay, occupying an entire block in the east end of the city, today were estimated at $75,000.

The fire which apparently started in an ecetylene tank inside the big mill was fed by grease from within the plant, according to firemen. For a while it threatened to spread thru the entire east section.

The fact that foam generally appears white is due to its being composed of tiny bubbles which reflect the light from their surfaces.

Plans Complete For Lincoln Day

With Good Weather Conditions Huge Crowd Will Come To City

FORUM SESSION WILL BE FEATURE

Republicans of 28 counties in western and central Pennsylvania are united today in the fervent hope that Wednedsay, February 12, will be a fair day, one that will permit automobiles to traverse the highways in safety and all those highways will lead to New Castle.

Wednesday will mark the largest gathering of Republicans in the state on that day and for New Castle probably the largest Republican gathering in its history. The birthday of Abraham Lincoln will be celebrated and for the celebration a program lasting from noon until 10:30 has been planned.

Starts with Parade.

Like the old fashioned political gatherings the day will start with a parade. At 11:45 the special train bearing the Lincoln club of the Beaver Valley and the distinguished visitors will arrive at the east side P. & L. E. yards.

Immediately after, the parade will form with Major J. Ed Boyle in command. In line will be 200 members of the Lincoln club dressed in long coats, silk hats and carrying red, white and blue umbrellas. Heading the parade will be the Purple Heart band of the Beaver Valley, every member of which is a member of the Republican club.

Marching to the public square and then over Jefferson and North streets to Mill street, the parade will wind up the hill to the Cathedral where lunch will be served. Chairman C. Ed Brown is expecting to feed about 2500 at the noon meal and 3500 in the evening. It is anticipated that 1000 or 1500 will eat down town. During the noon meal the Purple Heart band will play a concert in the Cathedral dining room.

At 2 o'clock an organ prelude will be presented by Edwin Lewis and at 2:15 Judge James A. Chambers will deliver the address of welcome to the distinguished gathering. At 2:30 the pageant "The Making of the Constitution" will be presented by members of the Lawrence County bar under the direction of Attorney Walter S. Reynolds. The pageant is in four episodes.

The Forum.

At 4 o'clock a Republican forum will be held with prominent Republicans of the various counties delivering short talks. Attorney Fred Fruit of Sharon will be in charge and addresses will be made by John Siggins of Warren county, Judge Marion D. Patterson of Blair county, Frank A. McClung of Butler county, Robert M. Fisher, son of former Governor John S. Fisher of Indiana county, and Hanna Durham of Allentown, well known Republican woman leader. Mrs. George R. Hemphill of Beaver Falls, president of the state Council of Republican Women, was scheduled to speak but graciously deferred to Miss Durham.

Dinner will be served starting at 5 o'clock and several sections of diners will have to be arranged in order to accommodate the crowd. At 8 o'clock an organ prelude will be presented by Miss Mary Gordon of Beaver county and Attorney Thompson Bradshaw of Beaver county, general chairman of the celebration, will open the program with the keynote address.

The two main speakers will be Congressman Charles F. Risk of Rhode Island and State Senator Theodore Lane Bean of Montgomery county, both speakers of more than ordinary ability. An organ finale by Miss Gordon will close the program. The special train will leave for the Beaver Valley at 10:30 o'clock.

The pageant to be presented in the afternoon has been presented before and is a splendid enactment of the scenes that took place when the constitution was written. Each of the cast with the exception of Samuel H. Hadley of Sharon is a member of the Lawrence County Bar association.

Women's Committee.

For the purpose of making the women visitors to the Lincoln Day celebration on Wednesday, February 12, welcome, County Chairman Roy W. Hazen of the Republican county committee today named a women's reception committee.

The duty of this committee will be to see that the visitors here enjoy the day and also see that nothing is left undone to make their visit pleasant. The names of the women appointed follow:

My New York

By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The exhibition of the Model Engineers' society is a Manhattan curio which this reporter heartily recommends to oddity shoppers.

Building railroads, sailboats and powerboats to scale is a hobby which engrosses many grownups. There are clubs of graybeards dedicated to this pastime, there is a large body of literature on the subject and magazines for fans.

The piece de resistance of this year's show is a model railroad, with six miles of built-to-scale steel track, midget size. Nine men are required to operate this impressive toy, raising and lowering drawbridges, blowing whistles, throwing switches.

Fathers are dating up sons hereabout to go to the show, with that anciently insincere martyrdom of circus days.

There are few cases of genuinely successful literary collaboration. I cannot, offhand, recall any pair whose work has remained over the years upon the classic shelf.

Even minor literati who blend brain and typewriter to produce novels or plays seldom enjoy real success or sustained esteem. Yet Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall, with their "Mutiny on the Bounty" trilogy and, recently, their stirring novel of tropical disaster, 'The Hurricane," seems to nit it off with amazing effectiveness.

I am told that Nordoff is the researcher, plotter and framework builder; Hall does most of the writing, which is later checked by his collaborator, who makes suggestions and in some instances rewrites. They live simply most of the time on that island which has stirred so much longing in a far-off, workaday and frost-bitten world: Tahiti.

George S. Kaufman, on the other hand, seems to possess alone the knack of collaborating with almost any other competent storyteller in the concoction of plays. He is the highest-paid of the collaborators, can virtually set his own stipend for dickering with any script; for his touch has nearly always meant box-office success.

Kaufman, by the way, is a letter-peeker. While working on a play with, say Edna Ferber, he will absent-mindedly pick up personal letters from her desk and scan them interestedly and with a beautiful lack of self-consciousness. Once, the tale goes, Miss Ferber framed a telegram and lay it face down on her desk for Kaufman's inevitable peek.

The message read: "George S. Kaufman always reads other people's mail, which he has got no business doing."

The Chinese restaurant, which long ago ceased to have the fillip of the strange and exotic, has taken its place in Manhattan life as the standard cut-price hashery. Now a huge new Oriental lunchroom has opened, occupying the entire second floor of a Broadway and 42nd building on the site of the old Rialto.

Foreign eating places in general are accepted pretty matter-of-factly here. A girl stenographer lunches one day on chow mein, the next on Hungarian goulash prepared by native chefs, the third from Armenia shish-kebab, to be varied by Turkish shshlik on the fourth set-to, and perhaps the week will end with a typically French plate of hors d'oeuvres.

FALSE TEETH
Tighter And Longer

I've tried several kinds of powders to hold my false teeth. When I tried FASTEETH I found the one powder that does not thin out or wash away, but "stays put" all day. It gives a most pleasant feeling, a real sense of security and holds and holds and holds. Breath is always pleasant. If anyone with loose-fitting false teeth wants all-day comfort and a real stay there fit, insist upon FASTEETH at Eckerd's, of New Castle, Inc., New Castle Drug Co., or any good drug store.

On Court House Hill

It hasn't taken the county commissioners very long to discover that it takes money, and plenty of it, to run the county business. Despite the fact that $75,000 has been borrowed, the commissioners now face the necessity of negotiating another loan. On Saturday County Controller Frank W. Hill called attention to the fact that County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland has only $10,600.04 in the general fund and $7,712.68 in the poor fund. Salaries alone, which are to be paid this week, will cut the general fund over $4,000, to say nothing of the daily running expenses.

When the county commissioners assumed office they found over $53,000 of back bills that had to be paid. These bills had been accumulating for some time. They were paid out of the $75,000 borrowed, which did not leave much to meet the regular running expenses. The commissioners believe that they will be able to get along this week, but more money will have to be borrowed next week.

There is very little money coming into the treasury now, the principal source being from delinquent tax collectors and the payment of delinquent taxes to the treasurer. The 1936 taxes have not yet been levied, so that it will be some time before there is any income from new taxes. In the meantime the county must borrow. This has been done for several years past, since the depression began swelling the delinquent tax list. The borrowed money will be paid back as soon as the 1936 taxes begin to come in.

In an order made by Judge W. Walter Braham, W. D. Walton is released as guardian of William H. Lutz. The appointment of Walton as guardian was made on a petition presented by an uncle, Paul E. Lutz. Later Mrs. Grace Anderson, maternal grandmother of William H. Lutz, and with whom he made his home, presented a petition to have the order vacated and a trust company appointed. No objection was raised as to the fitness of Mr. Walton as guardian, but Mrs. Anderson wanted a trust company. The boy's father is dead and his mother is employed in Ohio, according to the petition.

Serving papers in executions on real estate during the past week has been something of a job on account of the slippery condition of the roads, according to Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard. On roads running north and south on which there has been an accumulation of snow and ice, it was almost impossible to drive. In fact, in some places the sheriff and his deputies had to leave their cars and walk considerable distances. Sheriff Pritchard says he never saw the roads in worse condition.

POSTMASTERS PICK CITY

AROUND CITY HALL

Withdrawal of the offer of a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the slayers of City Policeman Clarence Campbell does not mean that the city, county and State police have given up the search. It is true they have no tangible clues as to the identity of the men who participated in the slaying in the Seventh ward, but the machinery of law never stops and in this case should not. The killers of Campbell should be brought to justice.

During the past few weeks with the weather loafing around zero, there has been plenty of good skating here. While the city has not regulated skating at Cascade Park some persons have made use of the ice there.

So far the Civil Service board has not been able to function properly owing to the illness of a member.

The police department quota has been lowered by death and illness. According to reports there were more than two score who qualified for jobs when the old board rated the papers. It is believed that when the board does meet and certify a list to council several men may be added to the department.

Solicitor Robert White today warned tenants and property owners they should remove ice and snow from their sidewalks. Should anyone fall and suffer injury the tenant or property-owner can be held responsible for damages, White asserted.

Tech Is Decisively Beaten By Titans; Final Score 46-21

Westminster Achieves Revenge For Defeat Earlier In Season

Bennett Tosses In Ten Fouls Because Tech Men Cling To Him

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 10.—Revenge was sweet on the Westminster floor Saturday night as the Titans rushed 13 Carnegie Tech cagemen over the floor and more than doubled the score with a 46-21 victory.

Bennett, high scorer for the Lawthermen, proved that he was good against any team as he tallied 16 points, three field goals and 10 free throws. The Tech guards clung like glue to the tall forward, but the guarding was costly as three Tartans left the game on personal fouls and Bennett's score mounted with free tosses, as a result.

Playing to a packed house, both teams played a spectators game with fast rough play, and fast, deceptive passing. Lacking any advantage in height against the even taller Tech courtmen, the Titans was forced to rely on hard fast passing and quick, off-balance shots.

Willits tossed in a free throw for the first score of the game. The Titans missed several and Fitzwilson missed a charity toss. Krivosh sank a long one for Westminster to make the score 3-0. Both sides scored free ones. Tech was blocking the long shots of Krivosh and Hunneke.

Two shots from the center of the floor shoved Tech into the lead, but Demo's basket tied the score at 6-6 as Willits left the game. Demo took a charity bucket, followed by Gibson's one point and again the score was sewed up at seven all. Bennett added four points on a tap off the backboard and two technicals. Again Bennett scored, making five points in a row and a 12-7 score. Demo, who earlier in the season subbed for Backus, was playing a superb game as again he slipped under the Tech basket to double the score, 14-7.

Jagnow, Miller and Patt came into the game for the Tartans. Coach Hannum was playing an old trick of sending in new material to tire out the opposition. The Tartans took a time out to set up their old trick with Fitzwilson under the basket and it worked. Bennett missed a backward shot, but Patt's foul made one point. With the score 15-9 for Westminster, Greenberg came into the game.

Miller made only one out of four technicals for Tech. Willits replaced Backus for Westminster and Bennett moved to center. As Willits took an easy shot, the score rose to 17-10. Rosenthal replaced Jagnow for the Tartans. Krivosh scored a goal and a free toss, and Willits tallied again in a wild Titan spree at the end of the first half to more than double the score 22-10.

Willits and Demo missed shots under the basket, but Felser dropped a beautiful shot for Tech. Both teams took a point on technicals. Backus replaced Demo, as Bennett dropped one point. Backus dropped one in from the center of the floor, but the basket was no good because of double dribbling. The tall Titan retaliated by a close-in shot to again double the score 28-14.

Tech took time out and Jagnow replaced Gibson. The Tartans found the going hard inside the Titan defense and took to long shots but with no success. On Patt's foul Krivosh got two singles. Bennett saved Willits' shot by tapping it in.

Bennett took a free throw. After a scramble up and down the floor, Miller came out with the ball to score for Tech. Miller and Felser scored technicals for Tech, but Felser on the next play left the game for Tech on personals. Tech took time out with the count 35-21.

Bennett picked up two free ones and Fitzwilson left the game, the third Tech player to leave by the four-foul route. With Bennett's two free throws, the score was 39-21 and Krivosh immediately added three points on a basket and a charity toss.

Demo again entered the game as Lawther began relieving the varsity by reserves. With the score 42-21 Bennett took a set-up and Demo tossed one from the side for four more points to end the game 46-21.

Six Titans players played heads-up, flawless ball throughout the game, the starting five and Demo. Bennett and Willits at the guard posts, Backus at center, and Krivosh and Hunneke at forwards were all too good for any kind of opposition. Demo earned his place as sixth man on the Titans by Saturday night's play.

Finland Wins Skiing Event

United States Team Finishes Eleventh In Field Of Sixteen Contestants

By PIERRE HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 10.—Finland today won the 40-kilometer ski relay race of the Olympic games with Norway second, Sweden third, Italy fourth, Czecho-Slovakia fifth and Germany sixth. The United States finished 11th in a field of 16.

The American team, composed of Birger Torrissen of Norfolk, Conn., Warren Chivers of Hanover, N. H., Dick Parsons and Karl Satre, both of Salisbury, Conn., put up a game race but they were no match for the hardy Scandinavians who were raised on skiis.

Gruelling Race.

It was a gruelling race, the course climbing and descending two thousand feet of the most difficult mountain terrain.

Norway broke in front and at the end of 30 kilometers still held a short lead over the Finns, closely followed by the Swedes, Italians, Czechs, Poles and Germans.

Here the Finns began to close the gap between themselves and the flying Norwegians and from then on it was a nip and tuck battle down to the finish line.

The draw today for the semi-finals of the hockey championships placed Canada, Germany, Great Britain and Hungary in the first bracket and the United States, Austria, Sweden and Czecho-Slovakia in the second.

Americans Get Break.

The Americans got a break by being placed in the easier group. The Czechs figure to give them some stiff competition but the Swedes and Austrians should be soft touches.

Two teams from each group will advance to the final four. The hockey federation decided teams which have already played each other will not meet again. Instead, the result of their first meeting will count. Thus if Germany and the United States are scheduled to meet in the last round, America's previous defeat of Germany will count.

Eagan Should Have Kept His Punches Down!

Eddie Eagan, former amateur heavyweight champion, tells this one on himself.

He was fighting in Snyney, Australia, and his opponent was a big cheese named Brancourt. That is, Brancourt was a fighter but his father was a Hollywood cheese merchant.

Brancourt had quite a reputation. But, to Eagan that reputation lasted two rounds. It was down and out in the second chapter for Brancourt.

Eagan felt sorry for the big boy So he followed him to his dressing room to offer condolences. There he found Brancourt sitting meekly on a chair with a dazed look in his eyes. A small elderly man stood beside him.

Eagan picked up the cheeser's hand, shook it and wished "better luck next time," and then turned to go out of the room. But the elderly man—Brancourt's father— barred the way.

The latter shoved a fist under Eagan's nose and kept shouting: "You didn't fight fair, you didn't fight fair."

Eagan was mystified. He knew he hadn't struck a low blow. So he asked for details. The Dutchman gave it to him:

"You, you. . .You hit my son in the face! Call that fair? Nobody else ever hit him in the face."

NEW CASTLE CELTICS WIN

Aliquippa High Here On Tuesday

New Castle High "Red Hurricanes" Will Have Tough Opponent

Whether or not New Castle continues as contenders for the section three W. P. I. A. L. championship this year will be definitely decided Tuesday night at Washington nigh gym when Coach Nate Lippe brings his strong Aliquippa high team here. New Castle can still tie Beaver Falls for the title by winning tomorrow night and then dusting off Beaver Falls Friday night.

Of course this looks like a pretty big assignment, but stranger things have happened. And then, too, Butler or New Brighton will have to beat Beaver Falls even if New Castle does win Tuesday and Friday nights. There's a lot of ifs and ands in this section three race for the rest of the season.

Locals Pepped Up.

New Castle is all pepped up for the Aliquippa battle here tomorrow. New Castle won at the valley town by a close margin early in the first half. The "Quippers" will be out for revenge.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has a fairly smooth working combination going at the present time, consisting of "Chinkie-winkie" Dutkin and Nocera at the forwards, with Grommes at center and Covelli and Adams at the guards. This team looked mighty good at Ellwood City last Friday night.

The Aliquippa high team consists of all six-footers or over. It is the tallest team in the league.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is looking for a big crowd for the Aliquippa game. The reserves of the two schools will play the preliminary game starting at 7 o'clock.

Joe Cronin Thinks Jimmy Foxx Will Get Boston Sox Out Of "Red"

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 10.—"Jimmy not only will chase the blues that have been following the Hubtown fans for years, but he'll take the red out of Boston's financial reports in a few years."

That today was the tribute paid to Jimmy Foxx, erstwhile Philadelphia Athletics first sacker, by his new boss and general manager, Eddie Collins, of the Boston Red Sox.

Speaking at a testimonial dinner here, Collins predicted that Foxx's addition to the increasing list of Sox stars will lift the club into the midst of pennant doings. Trenton and Philadelphia fans presented the heavy-hitting infielder a floral piece and a pair of gold keys as tribute to his years with the A's.

Section 18 League Game Carded For Union High Floor

Union high school basketball team will play Slippery Rock high tonight at the Union floor in a section 18 league encounter, it was announced by Coach Davey Boyd. The Union girls will play a girls' team from senior high at 7:30 o'clock as a preliminary contest.

Slippery Rock has not won a league game this year and are about due to click tonight. Union had a tough time taking the measure of the "Rockets" at the college town recently.

Coach Boyd plans to use his second team as much as possible tonight in order to save the varsity boys for the section 18 league game at Evans City high Tuesday night. Union still has a chance to tie Evans City for the league title, but a defeat tomorrow night will erase Union as contenders.

Following is the standing of section 18 today:

WHAT LIQUOR WILL DO

Four men in evening clothes were standing on a railroad platform in Montreal recently waiting for a train. They were convivial from frequent visits to tap rooms. Joyously they were telling tales to each other. "All aboard!" shouted the conductor. Three of the men boarded the train, leaving the fourth on the platform, roaring with laughter.

"What's the matter with you?" demanded the station master. "Why all the gaiety?"

"Those three men came to see me off," the inebriate replied.

Justice Roberts read the opinion.

Strength In Market Comes From Activity In Steel Shares

OIL STOCKS ARE REPORTED STEADY

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Strength and activity in steel shares in reflecting expansion of mill operations, featured an irregularly higher market today.

U. E. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Republic and Sharon Steel Hoop all established new highs for 1935-36, with "big steel" rising nearly a point.

Awaiting the convening of the supreme court in anticipation of a TVA decision, utilities were turned over rather actively but price changes were small.

Rubbers continued into new high ground, with Goodrich and Goodyear leading the way. Aviation and motor shares were little changed while mining issues developed an easier tone.

Warner Bros. on reports of a $1,000,000 profit in the first quarter, was active and higher in the amusement list. Coca Cola displayed more than usual activity and rose 1½ points to a new peak.

Oils were steady but otherwise failed to reflect Sir Henri Deterding's denial of a prediction of a drop in oil prices. Rails showed fractional gains with Union Pacific penetrating new high ground.

Further gold exports were checked by a vigorous rally in the dollar. Bonds were generally stronger. Cotton was up two points.
